

KEY HIGHLIGHTS

Constructivism

Resource person: Dr Lindsay O'Neill | Instructional designer and educator | Curated from Lindsay O'Neill, MLIS, EdD
Constructivism | Learning Theories | pedagogy

- 01 Prior knowledge shapes how every learner interprets new information.
- 02 Assimilation fits new information into an existing schema; accommodation changes the schema.
- 03 Vygotsky explains how dialogue, culture, and timely support contribute to construction of knowledge.
- 04 Bruner connects discovery with structure and guidance.
- 05 Authentic tasks give learners a reason to test and revise their understanding.
- 06 Teachers design experiences and scaffolds that make productive thinking possible.