Self-Assessment and Peer Feedback | Feedback and Feedforward | assessment

- 01 Self and peer assessment develop learners' understanding of quality and criteria.
- 02 Looking closely at another piece of work can sharpen judgment of one's own work.
- 03 Examples and teacher modelling make criteria usable.
- 04 A narrow focus helps beginners give specific feedback.
- 05 A safe, honest classroom culture is a prerequisite for useful peer critique.
- 06 Revision turns feedback from commentary into learning.
